Any additional children who attend the party but are not included in the party as part of the party number, will be charged £3.50. This cost covers play and use of the facilities. If parents do not pay this charge then this cost will be passed on to the person responsible for the party.

Any persons remaining after the party who want to stay for the rest of the day will be charged the entrance fee accordingly.

The management reserve the right to change or cancel any animal interaction event in the case of public safety.

The management reserve the right to cancel a party in the case of public safety and will endeavour to reschedule the party at a mutually convenient time.

You as the party organiser are responsible for the children who attend your party. If parents leave the children with you they are then in your care and your responsibility. At no time are Duckys Park Farm responsible for these children. Duckys is providing the venue only. You must at all times keep an eye on the children inside and outside on the activities. Please note at certain times you will mix with the public and your animal activity may coincide with a public event. Please make sure you watch your children at all times.

Please provide a list of party guests with names and ages 48 hours before the party.
